DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Claims 8-36 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected inventions, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on 3/24/05.

Claim Objections

2. Claims 2-3 are objected to because of the following informalities:

In claim 2, the terms, “a second, top layer” and “a first, bottom layer” are double recitations of that which has already been recited in claim 1. This objection could be overcome by reciting --the-- or --said-- top and bottom layers thus indicating that applicant is referring to the same structures that have previously been recited.

In claim 3, the “a previous layer” appears to be a double recitation of “a first, bottom layer” recited in claim 1. This objection could be overcome by replacing “a previous layer” with --the bottom layer-- or --said bottom layer--.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. Claims 4-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claims 4-7, applicant recites a middle layer between the top and bottom layers.

However, the parent claim, claim 1, recites that the top layer is printed directly on top of the bottom layer. The use of the term “directly” is interpreted to mean that the top and bottom layers touch one another and there are no intervening layers. Since a dependent claim inherently includes all the limitations of the parent claim, claims 4-7 improperly negate the “directly” limitation by reciting that the middle layers are between the top and bottom layer.

For purposes of applying the most relevant prior art and expediting the prosecution of the application, claims 4-7 will be interpreted as not containing the conflicting “directly” limitation. This would appear to be applicant’s intention.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

6. Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Sodeyama (JP 2001-010298).

With respect to claim 1, Sodeyama discloses a method for creating a picture having two sides including the steps of printing a first, bottom layer 2 directly onto a transparent medium 1 and printing a second, top layer 3 directly on top of the bottom layer 2 as shown in Figures 1-3 of Sodeyama and disclosed in the first sentence of the “Solution” portion of the English abstract.

With respect to claim 2, Figures 1-2 of Sodeyama show that the top layer is printed precisely on top of the first, bottom layer.

With respect to claim 3, Figures 1-2 of Sodeyama show that the top layer is printed precisely on top of a previous layer (the first, bottom layer). Sodeyama discloses that a first image (an uncut watermelon) is shown in when the substrate 1 is viewed from one side, as shown in Figure 1, and a second image (a cut watermelon) is shown when the substrate is viewed from the back side, as shown in Figure 2.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

7. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

8. Claims 4 -7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sagi (US 6,142,620).

With respect to claim 4, Sagi discloses the claimed method for creating a picture having two sides except for the multiplicity of white layers. Sagi discloses printing a first, bottom layer 61 directly onto a transparent medium 60, printing a middle white layer 62 (Sagi, col. 4, lines 52-56) and printing a second, top layer 63 such that the middle white layer 62 is sandwiched between the top and bottom layer as shown in Figure 5 of Sagi. It has been held that the mere duplication of parts has no patentable significance unless a new and unexpected result is produced (see MPEP§ 2144.04, part VI, B). In this instance, there has been no unexpected result disclosed regarding the multiplicity of white layers. It would have been obvious to use a multiplicity of white layers in order to increase the blocking power of the white and prevent any of the image from the other side from showing through.

With respect to claim 5, Sagi discloses the claimed method as mentioned above with respect to claim 4 and further discloses that the middle layer 62 is precisely over the bottom layer 61 such that the middle layer 62 covers the bottom layer 61 as shown in Figure 5 of Sagi. Note the term "precisely" is a comparative term with no basis of comparison in the claim, thus it is being interpreted to mean that the layers are aligned.

With respect to claim 6, Sagi discloses the claimed method as mentioned above with respect to claims 4 and 5 and further discloses that the middle layer 62 underlies said top layer 63 as shown in Figure 5 of Sagi.

With respect to claim 7, Sagi discloses the claimed method as mentioned above with respect to claims 4-6 and further discloses that the middle layer 62 is precisely over the bottom layer 61 and precisely beneath the top layer 63.

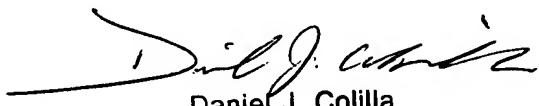

9. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Hicks, Kroner and Kondo are cited to show other examples of a method of printing a picture having two sides. Blake et al. and Sugawara are cited to show examples of a method of printing a picture including a white layer between top and bottom printed layers.
